61-YEAR RECORD

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Chester R. Snyder still remembers that first Sunday in 1906—it was the day he last missed Sunday School. Snyder, now 75, has had a perfect attendance record since then, attending Sunday schools from New York to Texas.

At present, he is teacher and superintendent of the adult school at Baptist Tabernacle here.

ed to servicemen. Three servicemen died with the disease.

Prior to the Vietnam conflict, Lobel said, between 100 to 150 malaria cases were reported each year and only about 50 of these were in servicemen.

The new figures, said Lobel, "suggest that servicemen in Vietnam are being infected there and the illness is striking from one month to a year later."

The parasite plasmodium, an organism existing in four species, is responsible for the malaria cases, according to Lobel. He said two species — vivax and falciparum — account for most of the infections.

Lobel said the falciparum strain, which has occurred in 78 per cent of the Vietnam servicemen cases about a month after they left that country, is the most serious type of malaria. The three servicemen who died in 1966 suffered from that strain.

An infection caused by the vivax species results in a much longer incubation period and a shorter illness, Lobel said.

Lobel said the latest malaria figures indicate "there will be a substantial increase" in the disease during the rest of the year.

World's oldest unchanged flag is that of Denmark—a white cross on a red field used since the 13th century.

Dedicated to Late President

DUNGANSTOWN, Ireland (AP) — A memorial grove of 1,300 Irish and American trees was dedicated to the late President John F. Kennedy Sunday on farmland near his family's ancestral homestead.

The trees were planted during the winter by young farmers and others in County Wexford.

Malaria Is Traced to Vietnam

By BEN CHESTER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An alarming increase of malaria in the United States has been traced to a Vietnamese parasite which causes a delayed infection in American servicemen, a federal health official said today.

Dr. Hans O. Lobel, chief of the malaria surveillance unit of the U.S. Communicable Disease Center, said 700 cases of malaria have been reported in the first three months of 1967, mostly among servicemen who have returned from Vietnam.

He said in an interview the case load already is as high as that reported in all of 1966 when 570 malaria cases were attrib-

Air Terminals, Rails Pick Up Business

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Railroads and air terminals in Little Rock are expecting an increase in freight business as a result of the national interstate trucking company lockout.

Some experienced increases Monday.

Cal Eudy, Little Rock manager of Missouri Pacific Railroad's freight terminal, said Monday freight orders were "up 25 per cent."

A spokesman for an air freight service at Adams Field said business had increased "some." He said "if the lockout continues much longer, business will go up correspondingly."

One of the few major interstate trucking firms not involved in the lockout, Red Ball Motor Freight, Inc., is expecting an increase in business.

"I imagine our business will increase considerably Tuesday (today) when the short-line haulers find out we're still doing business," said Jewell Meeks, Little Rock manager of Red Ball.

An estimated 700 to 800 truck drivers in Little Rock have been idled by the lockout.

TV to Carry WR Speech

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller videotaped a speech Monday and eight television stations have agreed to carry the 30-minute program after 4:30 p.m. today.

An aide to Rockefeller said the governor will discuss his vetoes during the General Assembly, the administration's program and repairs of the Governor's Mansion.

The aide said the stations which will carry the speech are: KARK-TV, Little Rock; KTHV, Little Rock; KATV, Little Rock; KFSA-TV, Fort Smith; KTVE, El Dorado; KAIT-TV, Jonesboro; KTAL, Shreveport, La. and WMCT, Memphis, Tenn.

Brazilian Ends Exile

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Juscelino Kubitschek, president from 1956 to 1961, returned to Brazil Sunday after three years' self-imposed exile to face about 90 charges of corruption.

He left in 1964 after the military government of former President Humberto Castello Branco stripped him of his political rights for 10 years. He was then a senator and considered a candidate for the presidency again.

Rioters, Officials to Confer

By DON MCLEOD

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Students and city officials made their first moves toward the conference table today after three nights of racial violence around the city's Negro college campuses.

A mediator said tentative agreement was reached Monday night after a day of separate talks to bring together student leaders, members of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and representatives of Nashville metropolitan government.

The mediator, who asked that he not be named, said a formal meeting is expected to be arranged today.

As the talks shaped up, violence diminished under a spring rain in the north Nashville area where Tennessee State University and Fisk University, both predominantly Negro, are located.

Crowds of Negro youths poured into the streets at dusk Monday, but violence was limited to a few small fires and sporadic gunfire, mostly aimed at street lights.

Police continued to make arrests at checkpoints cutting off the riot area, but by late Monday night the streets had cleared and college students had returned to their dormitories. Police patrols dispersed any beginnings of a crowd.

Buildings in the 30-block area showed the scars of rifle and shotgun blasts. Some were damaged by fires set Saturday and Sunday nights.

The only serious threat of violence Monday night came when about 300 students confronted police at Tennessee State. The crowd scattered when police fired a shotgun warning and four rounds of tear gas.

Nearly 100 persons were arrested during the three days.

Home Town Honors Soldier

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Army Spec. 6 Lawrence Joel, who grew up in Winston-Salem selling firewood to slum area housewives, was honored by his hometown with a parade Saturday.

An estimated 30,000 persons turned out to watch the Medal of Honor winner in a parade of high school bands, units from Ft. Bragg and reserve outfits.

The Negro soldier wore around his neck the nation's highest honor for bravery in combat which he won for treating wounded comrades when Viet Cong attacked his unit Nov. 8, 1965.

5000 Idled by General Motors Corp.

By A.F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — With 5,000 workers idled and other thousands on short shifts at parts-starved plants, the auto industry anticipates a worsening of the situation it blames on the closing of trucking firms across the country.

General Motors Corp. laid off 5,000 workers today and shut down truck assembly operations at its GMC Truck and Coach Division at Pontiac, Mich.

Ford Motor Co. either cut work shifts short or canceled scheduled overtime at eight assembly plants Monday. Some shifts were shortened by Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp.

A Ford spokesman anticipated "today will be worse." GM said it did not expect disruptions outside Pontiac today, but a spokesman added: "Wednesday is a question mark."

A former vice president of one of the major automakers predicted many plants could not keep going beyond Wednesday because of a lack of parts normally trucked in. He requested that he not be named.

Auto plants normally do not carry large inventories, scheduling shipments of parts to arrive as needed. Some rail-shipped items must be trucked from railheads to plants.

Unless it is prolonged, the shutdown by members of Trucking Employers Inc. would have little effect upon automobile availability. Dealers had more than 1.4 million vehicles on hand March 1, a record 70-day supply at current sales rates.

Drivers of auto haulway trucks are not affected by the trucking firms' contract covering long-distance drivers. They are covered by a different agreement.

Letters to the Editor

Editor-The Star: I do not know your policy for publishing letters addressed to the "Editor," but my wife and I both would like to thank the kind people of your city.

My wife and I were involved in a major accident at approximately 10:45 p.m. on March 24th, 1967, approximately 5 miles North of Hope. Your Sheriff William Griffin met us at the emergency room of Branch Hospital shortly after 11 p.m. on Friday night, March 24th and spent a great number of hours with me prior to our departure back to Dallas by ambulance on Saturday.

Sheriff Griffin is a dedicated officer with a feeling of humility towards those in need of assistance. You are most fortunate to have a Sheriff of your County, and I wish him many years of continued success as a law enforcement officer.

My thanks also to Dr. Branch of Branch Hospital for his quick efficient manner in which he administered aid to both my wife and myself and for the many things he did to make our life more pleasant during the few hours we were there.

A number of other people called upon us during our stay in the hospital, too numerous for me to remember their names. People who were complete strangers and who took the time from their daily tasks to stop and offer their assistance because we were "out of towners" and they felt they might be of help to us.

My wife and I both feel a debt of gratitude to the citizens of Hope and mere words cannot express our heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness and consideration.

A community combined of citizens such as yours is a community to be proud of and has left me and my wife with many memories that we both will long cherish. Sincerely,

Says Coppolino Is a Fortune Hunter

By DON NORTH

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — The prosecution, launching its first-degree murder case against Dr. Carl Coppolino, pictured him as a fortune hunter who killed one wife and took another to "continue a luxurious retirement."

In an opening statement Monday, State Atty. Frank Schaub told the all-male jury that the 34-year-old anesthetologist married and murdered his first wife, Carmela, for money.

While Coppolino's second wife, Mary, sat calmly in the courtroom, Schaub said the defendant rushed to marry her just 23 days after Carmela's death in order to share her fortune.

"We believe that the pieces of this puzzle will fit so neatly into place that you will know what happened," said Schaub.

Defense counsel F. Lee Bailey said in his brief opening statement that the defense would show that no murder took place. "She (Carmela) died all right," Bailey said. "But the cause was not homicide."

Coppolino has pleaded innocent to the Aug. 28, 1965, death of his physician first wife, which the state says he caused with an injection of a paralytic drug, succinylcholine.

The town of Alamos in the Mexican state of Sonora produces almost the world's entire crop of jumping beans.

Found Musicians Asleep in Motel

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — An audience of about 2,000 had been in Penn Theater about a half an hour Sunday afternoon waiting for a show by Al Hirt, when the show's sponsors went out looking for the bearded trumpeter.

They found him and his musicians sleeping in a motel.

Hal Friedman, managing director of the Music Guild of Pittsburgh, said Hirt had thought the performance was to be an evening affair.

CHATTER

By BILL

It seems almost too good to be true, and it is probably too early to be sure yet, but for the last few days it has been Spring with a capital "S" and you don't have to be too smart to know it!

The cutest dandelion that ever bloomed was staring right up at us this morning when we went out to get the paper. Just before daylight or about that time, a chorus of birds presented a concert that would have soothed any old savage beast. The redbud trees are faintly pink on top, about the color of a strawberry soda. The tulip and dogwood trees are not about to wait any longer, they are in full bloom. And right in the middle of the rose-bed a fishing worm has stretched himself in the warm sun, probably knows full well we do not have time to go near the water. There is a restlessness in the air, everybody wants to do something and doesn't exactly know what. And the surest sign of all and the one we like best... is the many females coming to Raley's asking for something brand new and saying they are sick and tired of their old clothes and cannot stand them one minute longer...

We would love to show you a cotton suit, mixed with a little nylon to hold its press, designed by Cupatoli; Leed's. A Jeanne Durrell like the one in Vogue with the A-line skirt. A Dacron knit suit, blue as a Spring sky with a stripe blouse designed by Butte.

Spring has sprung at Raley's. We invite you to enjoy it with us. Remember, we are right across the street from Safeway. Shop today, the place is-

Man for All Seasons, Gets Oscar

By GENE HANDSAKER
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Britain's "A Man for All Seasons" topped Hollywood's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" six Oscars to five, in Academy Awards ceremonies televised Monday night after a late-hour strike settlement.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan and his wife Nancy — ex-movie stars themselves — applauded the presentations from eighth row center and guffawed as master of ceremonies Bob Hope gulped.

"Tonight we salute Hollywood, the birthplace of politicians. Soon we'll need another category — best performance by a governor."

"A Man for All Seasons," the struggle of Sir Thomas More against King Henry VIII's scheming lieutenants, was acclaimed by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences as Best Picture of 1966.

It won Oscars also for Paul Scofield, in the title role; its director, Fred Zinnemann; and for color cinematography, costume design and screenplay.

Scofield, 45, was in England rehearsing a play. His Oscar was accepted by Wendy Hiller, nominated for her supporting role in "A Man for All Seasons."

"Virginia Woolf," the profanity-studded clash of a couple whose hate is grounded in love, brought a second Oscar to Elizabeth Taylor, 35, who won in 1960 for "Butterfield 8."

"Woolf" was acclaimed also for black and white cinematography, costume design and art direction.

Sandy Dennis, the young college professor's wife in "Woolf," received the supporting-actress award.

Walter Matthau, 43, got the supporting actor Oscar as the slyster lawyer of the "Fortune Cookie."

Stepping onstage with his broken left arm in a cast and his face bruised — injuries received in falling off a motorcycle last Saturday — he said:

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! in this newspaper.

FATHER NOT AWARE HIS DAUGHTER'S GROWING UP

Dear Helen: How can I tell my Dad without hurting his feelings that I'm not a young child any longer. He walks into my bedroom when I'm dressing, into the bathroom when I'm taking a bath; whacks my on the fanny and makes silly jokes about me just as he did when I was five. He doesn't realize a girl grows up and needs privacy and, when she's 14, she thinks her father should remember there's another woman in the house — not a baby girl. — L. A.

P. S. He's a great guy and I love him dearly.

Dear L: Ask your mother to get the message across. This column accidentally dropped by his breakfast coffee might also help. Sometimes fathers are very slow to notice their little girls — aren't they. — H.

Dear Helen: Here's an answer to D.E.R., who wanted as her bridesmaid a girl of another religion. My best girl friend, too, was of a different religion. She had some doubts, but accepted. If she is your closest chum, she will be hurt if you don't ask her — so take a chance. — R.B.K.

Dear Helen: Why do so many adults think the things kids take ing off my bicycle, I had the following thoughts: I was given a juicy part, allowed to work with talented, exhilarating, beautiful people and received a great deal of money. Really? — glancing at his Oscar — "don't you think this is going too far?"

In his next film, "The Odd Couple," Matthau teams again with Jack Lemmon, star of "The Fortune Cookie."

seriously are funny? We have a teacher who teases us about everything from our braces to our boy friends. She has broken up several couples, including me, because junior high kids are very sensitive.

I guess she thinks she is funny, but it hurts. If we complain, we'd just get laughed at some more. — O.J.

Dear O: Adults are as unfunny as they are insensitive when they tease young teens about those very serious growing-up problems. Your principal won't laugh if you can show him this teacher goes overboard on "wit." — H.

Dear Helen: I am a 14-year-old boy. Some two years ago I was involved in an automobile accident from which I am still recovering. Among other injuries I was left with a paralyzed left arm (I am left-handed), and I walk with a crutch.

At my age most kids are earning money for physical labor. I want to earn, but I can't find work. I even tried to get a job as a telephone solicitor, but was refused because of age. Any suggestions? — RICHARD

Dear Rich: Child labor laws make jobs scarce for any 14-year-old. Yardwork, housework and baby sitting are about his only opportunities, unless he can find piece-work he can do at home.

I wish I could be more helpful, but I'm afraid you may have to wait until you're 16. Do any of my readers have suggestions for this ambitious young man? — H.

Dear Helen: Please tell me how to help a friend. She lost her boyfriend last year, but he called her up at Christmastime and asked her to sneak out. She wanted him back so badly she went too far, and now she's three and one-half months pregnant. The boy ignores her completely. She had a good reputation — had never done anything wrong before. She's 14.

Here's the problem. She lives with her Dad, as her mother is dead. She doesn't plan to tell him, but will go away for a vacation this summer, have her baby, give it up, and keep her secret — from him. But she's telling a lot of kids, so she can get back at the boy.

I say she should let her Dad help her. The boy should be made to help too, at least financially. How can I get through to her? — FUTURE GODMOTHER

Dear F.G.: Nature and gossip will solve this problem. If your friend's father doesn't notice her condition, someone will surely tell him — and I hope that someone is her! A 14-year-old mustn't face unwed pregnancy alone. — H.

THE FAMILY LAWYER Snow Suits Over the past few months, winter sports have yielded their usual crop of collisions, contusions, and concussions. The medical consequences, as a rule, are painfully plain to see. But what of the legal consequences? Who is liable for the damage done? There are several basic principles of negligence law that are likely to provide the answers. One is that the management of a recreation area must set rules that will keep danger within reasonable bounds. For example: At one winter playground, sleds and novice skiers were allowed to mix freely on the same slope. A girl skier, felled by a careening sled, sued the management and collected. "It is common knowledge," said the court, "that coursing sleds are not easily controlled, while novice skiers are notoriously unable to direct their own movements. The location of these runs made serious accidents not only possible but probable."

A second principle is that the equipment provided for public use should be in good working order. Thus, a court held that a skier could collect for injuries traceable to a faulty switch on a ski tow.

On the other hand, the sportsman too must show a sensible concern for his own safety. Take this case: A determined young couple kept right on taking rides on their toboggan, even though the path ran dangerously close to a tree. Sure enough, they finally hit the tree. The girl was injured, and in due course filed suit for damages. But the court ruled that she herself was guilty of negligence, for continuing to toboggan in defiance of the obvious danger.

Furthermore, the very fact that you ski, skate, or toboggan means that you voluntarily accept those risks that are inherent in the sport. A court emphasized that point in turning down the claim of a skier who was thrown off balance by a minor irregularity on the slope. Like any skier, said the judge, "the plaintiff was not seeking a retreat for meditation. He took the chance of such a fall."

And the judge added: "To hold that a ski trail down a mighty mountain, with snow conditions that constantly change, should be kept level and smooth, free from holes, would be to demand the impossible."

Sponge Baths Effective Relief of Itchy, Dry Skin

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What would cause my legs to itch when they are exposed to the cold?

A—The most likely cause is winter itch which is especially common in persons with dry skin. It usually helps to take sponge baths with cold or lukewarm water using little or no soap. If you use soap, stick to plain unscented brands and rinse the soap off thoroughly. Rub a thin layer of lanolin cream on your skin and use a humidifier during the months when you must heat your home.

Unscheduled Landing Is Safe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A chartered airliner with singer Andy Williams and orchestra leader Henry Mancini aboard made an unscheduled landing Sunday after, officials said, one of its four engines began burning excessively oil.

The DCT was carrying 63 passengers, including members of Mancini's orchestra, from Pittsburgh to Toronto. They completed the trip in buses and automobiles.

A court emphasized that point in turning down the claim of a skier who was thrown off balance by a minor irregularity on the slope. Like any skier, said the judge, "the plaintiff was not seeking a retreat for meditation. He took the chance of such a fall."

And the judge added: "To hold that a ski trail down a mighty mountain, with snow conditions that constantly change, should be kept level and smooth, free from holes, would be to demand the impossible."

HEROES ARE MADE - NOT BORN

It didn't take East and West much time to produce the losing defense against one no-trump. West opened the deuce of hearts. East took his king and shifted to the deuce of diamonds. South played the jack. West took his queen and returned the suit. East put up his ace and led a third diamond.

South cashed three diamonds, discarding a club and two spades from dummy. West jettisoned the seven of clubs, nine of hearts and four of spades.

South led a heart. West rose with the ace and played the jack of hearts to dummy's queen.

South could have taken the ace-king of spades and ace of clubs for a very satisfactory eight tricks but he wanted everything that wasn't nailed down. He played ace-king and a small spade. West was in again and had to lead away from his king of clubs, so South actually wound up making three odd.

West pointed out quickly that all this happened because East would not return his heart opening.

"Fiddlesticks," said East. "I led the deuce of diamonds. That showed four diamonds only. You held two as did dummy. If you could count to 13 you would have realized that declarer held five."

"Why did you play the third diamond?" asked West.

"I assumed that your four spot return was low because you had started with four diamonds," replied East.

The argument is still going on but we are going to decide it against West, who should have realized that South did hold more diamonds than

Race Track Loss $2.5 Million

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With the horsemen's boycott ended and Aqueduct back in operation after being closed five days with an estimated revenue loss of $2.5 million, thoroughbred racing fans could look forward today to Saturday's Eastern preview of the Kentucky Derby.

For awhile, as horsemen refused to enter their charges for races at the Big A, there was fear the one-mile, $50,000-added Gotham would not be run as scheduled. In fact, there was strong talk among several trainers about shipping their Derby eligibles to a proposed special race at Pimlico.

But when some 250 members of Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association voted late Monday at a hastily called meeting to accept a $3.5-million increase in purses, all plans to ship elsewhere were dropped.

The decision, however, came too late to stop Eddie Delahanty, trainer of Ogden Phipps' successor, 1966 2-year-old champion who disappointed in his lone outing this year. Success or defeat early in the morning at Keeneland at Lexington, Ky., where he is slated to run in a seven-furlong race Saturday.

"And, unless he fails to show anything, he'll stay there for the Blue Grass April 27 before moving to Churchill Downs for the Derby," said Nely. The Derby will be run May 6.

In ending the boycott of the entry book, the horsemen got a part of what they originally wanted. They originally asked for an additional one per cent of the parimutuel take out, but accepted the one-half per cent which had been recommended by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, passed by the State Senate and then failed to reach the Assembly floor after being held in the Rules Committee by Anthony J. Travia, Democratic speaker.

The plan, drawn up after conference among the governor, legislative leaders; Jack Dreyfus, temporary head of the HBPA's New York Division, and James C. Brady, chairman of the New York Racing Association board, calls for the NYRA to furnish the money this year and the state to provide it next year through legislative action.

"It is not all we wanted but members of the HBPA board consider it the best under the circumstances," said Dreyfus. "The state has agreed to give us an extra one-half per cent of the wagering from its share next year. We do not necessarily have to take it."

Under the current law, the state collects 10 cents out of a dollar wagered and the track five cents. The state, which received $77 million from thoroughbred racing last year, also gets the tax on admissions plus various fees.

Andretti Gets Driver Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., Tuesday unanimously won the first place of the American auto race Driver of the Year competition. Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., was runner-up.

Four more votes will be taken by a racing writers committee with the final winner receiving a $7,500 cash prize.

In the first seven international races of the season, Andretti won two.

Redlegs in Win Over Dodgers

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Yankees were back at their old stand today, but Ralph Houk isn't ready to sign a long-term lease. New York's brave new world will have to mark time until Mickey Mantle can last more than 2½ innings.

"Too bad it isn't October," Manager Houk said Monday after his new-look Yankees had mauled Washington 8-0 in the American League's annual presidential opener to gain first place for the first time since Oct. 4, 1964.

New York's impressive getaway, a product of Mel Stottlemyre's brilliant two-hit pitching and a 14-hit attack, was marred by the loss of Mantle, whose debut as a first baseman was cut short when he aggravated a spring training injury during the Yankees' seven-run, third-inning explosion.

Mantle left the game with a pulled hamstring muscle in his left leg after scoring from first base on Joe Pepitone's triple in the third. He originally had pulled the muscle sliding into second base in a March 22 exhibition against Boston.

"We'll just have to wait and see how it comes around," Houk said. "We don't know how serious it is right now."

While Stottlemyre, a 20-game loser for the 10th-place Yankees last year, was throttling the Senators before a D.C. Stadium crowd of 44,382 that included President Johnson, the Cincinnati Reds got the jump in the National League with a 6-1 victory over Los Angeles' 1966 NL champs.

At Washington, the President added a new twist to pre-game ceremonies by tossing out the first ball — and then making two more pitches. Fred Valentine of the Senators caught the first delivery, and Yankee pitchers took it from there.

Al Downing and Dooley Womack grabbed the President's other two tosses before Stottlemyre stymied the Senators, yielding only an infield hit by Cap Peterson in the second inning and a ground single by Valentine in the ninth.

Tom Tresh touched off the Yankees' third-inning uprising with a double off loser Pete Richert and rookie Bill Robinson followed with the season's first homer.

Mantle singled, Pepitone tripled and Elston Howard singled for two more runs. Charlie Smith beat out an infield roller and John Kennedy, recently acquired from the Dodgers, lashed a two-run double before Stottlemyre capped the barrage with a run-scoring single.

Pinson and Johnson cracked first-inning homers for Cincinnati against right-hander Bob Miller, who has moved from the bullpen into Sandy Koufax' spot in the Dodgers pitching rotation.

Simpson hit a pinch homer off reliever Ron Perranoski in the seventh before an appreciative turnout of 28,422 at Crosley Field.

Maloney, meanwhile, checked the Dodgers on five hits before complaining of tightness in his right shoulder. "It's nothing to be concerned about," he said later. "I usually experience this early in the season."

The other 16 major league clubs opened their pennant bids today, with Baltimore's world champion Orioles entertaining Minnesota and Pittsburgh's National League favorites visiting the Mets at New York.

In other American League openers, Chicago visited Boston this afternoon while Cleveland was at Kansas City and Detroit at California in night games.

Philadelphia was at Chicago, Atlanta at Houston and San Francisco at St. Louis in the National League, the latter two games going under the lights.

from Detroit on waivers and sent right-handed Fred Newman, southpaw Clyde Wright and catcher Merritt Ranew to Seattle Shortstop Jack Hernandez was sent to Minnesota's Denver farm club, completing the trade that brought Jim Hall, Don Mincher and Pete Cimino to the Angels for Dean Chance.

The Chicago Cubs placed veteran infielder Felix Mantilla on the 21-day disabled list with a pulled tendon and added rookie pitcher Joe Niekro and veteran catcher Dick Bartell to the roster.

PITCHING—Mel Stottlemyre, Yankees, started his bid to reverse last year's 12-20 won-lost record by checking Washington on two scattered singles as New York blanked the Senators 8-0 in the American League season opener.

BATTING—Bill Robinson, Yankees, launched a seven-run uprising in the third inning with a two-run homer and added a sixth-inning single in New York's 14-hit attack.

Johnson Set a New Record

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson, a first baseman of sorts in better baseball days, set a major league presidential pitching record Monday.

His duty done, the President settled down to get a start on the hot dogs quickly, chat considerably, and watch a bit of baseball occasionally.

It was the opening game of the 1967 baseball season, and the Washington Senators took on the New York Yankees and an 8-0 shellacking.

Johnson tossed out the first ball. He fired a second, tying a record held by himself and various predecessors. Then he escalated the record to three, a feat never attempted since William Howard Taft began this presidential custom in 1910.

Maybe the Senators should have tried to sign Johnson up right then. His arm looked strong. He was on their side and sitting back of their dugout.

But Johnson wasn't unduly interested in baseball. He started right in talking, now and then on a special White House telephone but mostly with the neighbors in all directions.

Four of the neighbors he brought with him by car from the White House. He put Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, on his left. The lady senator was about the brightest splash of color in the stadium in a brilliant red suit and matching hat. A White House spokesman said he had been told it was the first time a woman senator had been invited to an opening game.

Before the first inning was over the President was buying hot dogs and soft drinks for everybody within a radius of 10 or 15 feet. He had a couple of hot dogs himself, hunching out of the range of cameras while he ate them.

He was munching something or other — peanuts, popcorn, an ice cream sandwich — most of the time he was there.

Johnson had his partisanship on display now and then. He wasn't clapping when Bill Robinson of the Yankees got the first home run of the season. He did applaud Pete Richert when the Yankees shelled the Senator pitcher out of the game.

The President left at the end of the fifth inning. By then it was New York 7, Washington 0.

Few Porks Listed as Standouts

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — University of Arkansas football coach Frank Broyles said Monday there was more "hitting" during the fourth day of spring practice than there had been the first three days.

Broyles complimented the performances of wingback David Dickey, split end David Cox, defensive halfback Tommy Tranham, defensive end Hartford Hamilton and monster man Steve Hoehn.

"It was a pretty tough scrimmage," said Broyles. "David Cox caught the ball well and David Dickey ran well." Broyles said Hamilton, Tranham and Hoehn stood out on defense.

The Razorbacks will practice today but will not practice Wednesday because of a coaching clinic. Spring practice will resume Thursday.

UA, Baylor Tie in a Golf Match

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The University of Arkansas and Baylor tied a Southwest Conference golf match, 3-3, here Monday. David McCauley of Arkansas and David Smith of Baylor shared medalist honors with two-under-par 70s.

McCauley defeated Rick Rogers, 4 and 2. Ben Hagens of Baylor and Sammy Brown tied. McCauley and Brown whipped Rogers and Hagens, 5 and 4. Smith beat Mike McCutcheon, 3 and 1 while Sam Pat Boyd of Baylor and Tommy Howard of Arkansas tied. Smith and Boyd beat McCutcheon and Howard, 1 up.

Warriors Go East With a 3-2 Lead

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nate was great so the San Francisco Warriors head East today holding a 3-2 advantage over the St. Louis Hawks in their best-of-7 playoff for Western Division honors in the National Basketball Association.

Nate Thurmond, the 6-foot-11-inch Warrior pivotman, scored 23 points in San Francisco's 123-102 triumph at the Cow Palace Monday night. More important, he controlled the boards and grabbed 27 rebounds.

The two clubs meet Wednesday night at St. Louis Kiel Auditorium where San Francisco hasn't won this season and where the Hawks had squared the playoffs 2-2 with a pair of victories.

Tonight in Philadelphia, the 76ers will try to win the Eastern Division honors from the Boston Celtics. The 76ers need only one more triumph to take that playoff, leading 3-1 in the best-of-7 series.

Coach Alex Hannum's 76ers took three straight before losing at Boston Sunday 121-117.

A Philadelphia victory would end Boston's eight-year NBA reign.

The Warriors' Rick Barry, who suffered an ankle injury at St. Louis on Saturday night, returned to action with a 25-point performance as the Cow Palace game's leading scorer.

Yanks Win Season's Opener

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even Mel Stottlemyre's two-hit shut-out and a perch atop the American League standings doesn't make everything rosy for the New York Yankees — Mickey Mantle hurt himself again.

The off-injured Mantle made his regular season debut as a first baseman in Monday's 8-0 Yankee victory over Washington as President Johnson looked on at the American League opener.

Mantle was taken from the game after he aggravated a leg muscle pull suffered during spring training. He reinjured himself rounding second base en route to the plate during a seven-run New York outburst in the third inning.

"We'll just have to wait and see how it comes around," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk. "We don't know how serious it is right now."

Stottlemyre, a 20-game loser last year, said he's been waiting since last April to be in the position he is today — with a record of one victory and no losses.

Stottlemyre, who was 20-9 during his first full season in 1965 before sinking to 12-20 last year, also said he was somewhat awed by Johnson's attendance at the game.

"I had never seen him in person," Stottlemyre said. "And it was really something to be pitching in front of him. I stopped pitching when he left (on the fifth inning). Just think, pitching before the President."

The Senators, who defeated Stottlemyre three times last season against no losses, probably wished Johnson's presence had hypnotized the slinker-ball pitcher. It didn't.

Only three Washington balls reached the outfield, one of which was a ninth-inning single by Fred Valentine that spurred between first baseman Ray Barker and second baseman Horace Clarke.

"Too bad it isn't October," said Houk with a big, broad grin when asked how it felt to be in first place. The Yankees finished 10th last year.

On Asian Aid Public Hasn't Been Consulted

That was a nice mouthful President Johnson said in Washington Monday welcoming Vice-President Humphrey home from a European tour. Our expansionist President looked beyond the domestic war on poverty, and the European aid program, and embraced Asia, too. Mr. Johnson said:

"Neither the new world of the Americans nor the old world of Europe can hope to fulfill its dreams and ambitions until the ancient world of Asia has become a full and equal partner in the forward movement of man."

Florida language about foreign aid usually means money, specifically money taken from the American taxpayer. And there is certainly a communication gap between the President and the People on this one, for no private American in his right mind has considered for an instant the prospect of underwriting the rescue of the poverty-stricken Orient.

The public hasn't been consulted, and when it is consulted the high dreams and florid language of the Washingtonians are going to be jolted by what those who work for a living like to call the hard facts of existence. Already there is a ground swell against governmental prodigality here at home as evidenced by last fall's congressional elections. We have given billions to the rebuilding of Europe yet Vice-President Humphrey got the coolest of receptions while touring there. And now our Chief of State hints that a similar comedy of errors is to be staged in Europe.

Obviously Mr. Johnson is out of touch. But he'll get the word as time goes by.

Park Roads in State System

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Attorney General's office ruled Monday that the Highway Commission is responsible for roads within state parks and said Arkansas 69 through the Jacksonport State Park should extend to a boat launching ramp.

Bryan Stearns, associate director of Parks, asked for the opinion.

The Highway Department had planned to construct the highway to the outer edges of the park. The ruling said it was the legislature's intent that the road to the boat ramp be included in the highway system.

Referendum on Milk Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — L. C. Baber, executive vice president of the Arkansas Council of Retail Merchants, said Monday a referendum campaign will be staged by the Committee in Opposition to Milk Price Control.

He said the purpose of the campaign would be to bring to a vote of the people the Arkansas Dairy Commission law. He said the committee decided the law, which provides minimum prices for the sale of milk products and frozen dairy products, would affect every citizen in the state and should be considered by the electorate in the 1968 general election.

Baber said about 34,000 signatures will be needed on petitions to get the issue on the ballot. He said the new law interferes with free enterprise.

Sees Johnson as Tragic in History

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — President Johnson will be viewed by future historians as a tragic figure, says Arnold Toynbee.

The 77-year-old British historian gave his opinion Monday as he began a visiting professorship at Stanford University. "Humanity is dancing on the edge of a precipice," he warned. He said the President appeared more interested in face-saving than in "ending a barbarous war which threatens the foundations of American democracy."

Johnson is an able politician than the late President John F. Kennedy, Toynbee said, but his ability to "fix Congress is having a dangerous effect."

Enemy Hit Heavily by Big Bombers

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes plunged through holes in the clouds Monday to give North Vietnam its second-heaviest pounding since the monsoon rains moved in five months ago.

The 133 raids cost the United States one Air Force F105 Thunderchief shot down by Red ground gunners. It was the 503rd American plane reported lost over North Vietnam.

Ground fighting generally slackened today except in the muddy paddies 20 miles west of Saigon. U.S. 9th Infantry Division soldiers, with heavy artillery and air support, continued pursuit of a guerrilla battalion that U.S. spokesmen said had lost 209 dead since Sunday. The battle continued today but at a reduced pace.

The deepest raids over North Vietnam were unarmed psychological warfare missions in the Hanoi area where U.S. planes dropped 3.5 million leaflets. Most of them debunked a Communist hero the Reds said was killed in heroic action against the Americans but who turned up alive as a prisoner.

The 133 air missions were flown by jets from carriers in the Tonkin Gulf and from bases in Thailand and South Vietnam. The number of missions has been surpassed only once in five months, on April 3 when 147 were flown during a break in the weather.

Most raids centered on supply lines extending south to the 17th Parallel border between North and South Vietnam. At times the weather was so thick pilots had to use radar guidance bombing techniques.

A capacity crowd of 525 persons will greet Ho Kiwanis Club at Foreman Tuesday night when the curtain rises on the 24th annual minstrel and variety show.

"Every seat in the Foreman high school auditorium has been sold and there is standing room only," said a report from that city today.

In addition to the sell-out crowd, the Foreman Kiwanis club has published a 28-page two-color souvenir program. The Foreman club was organized only a few months ago under the sponsorship of the Hope Club.

In the meantime, 1,000 tickets were being sold in Hope for the two performances here Thursday and Friday nights at city hall auditorium. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Kiwanis club.

Leonard Ellis, director of advertising and publicity, announced that a 40-page two-color souvenir program had been published with the support of more than 200 advertisers.

Advertising revenue, he said, amounted to $1645.00 and with a good ticket sale for the two performances, the club will be well on its way in raising $3,000.00 which the club members have pledged for improvement of K-Park in order that the State Little League Baseball Tournament may be held in Hope this summer.

Besides the youth and recreational program, the club also lends support to the Hope High School Key Club, which was organized February 1, 1947.

With limited membership of 30 young men a year, the Key Club, a school service organization has played a vital part in contributing to the training and growth of hundreds of Hope High School students.

The Kiwanis club annually awards a college scholarship to a ranking Key Clubber.

Mother Charged in Child's Death

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor Lyman Mikel Monday charged Mrs. Martha Mize, 30, of Fort Smith with first-degree murder in connection with the death of an infant.

The child was found in a grocery bag wrapped in plastic Thursday near the Fort Smith city dump.

Dr. Annette Landrum performed an autopsy and said the baby had died from smothering. She said the infant had been dead for 24 to 48 hours before it was found.

Witnesses in Bribe Case Subpoenaed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pulaski County Grand Jury has subpoenaed six more witnesses in connection with the jury's investigation into reports that bribe offers were made to legislators.

The Grand Jury will meet today at 9:30 a.m. The six witnesses include two state representatives, two former representatives and two reporters.

Subpoenas were served Reps. Caylor Windsor Jr. and Herbert Rule III of Little Rock; former representatives J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Little Rock and Paul Van Dalsem of Perryville and reporters Jack Baker of the Arkansas Gazette and Mike Smith of the Pine Bluff Commercial.

The investigation began after Windsor said he was offered $1,000 to vote for a bill which would have legalized gambling in four private clubs at Hot Springs.

Cash for Head Start Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Monday the Office of Education has approved Head Start grants to help finance summer programs for underprivileged preschool children in four Arkansas counties.

The programs approved include $26,400 for Benton County; $17,561 for Grant County; $20,482 for Polk County and $15,665 for Polk County.

Hope Group Tells of Council Meet

At last week's State Student Council Convention, held at Blytheville, Arkansas, Hope High students were in the spotlight.

Thursday night, at the First General Assembly, Larry Don Wright presided over the convention. He was also one of four panel members that night who gave reports on national-wide conventions they had attended earlier.

Larry's was a report on the 10th Annual International Conference on Williamsburg Student Burgesses which was held in Williamsburg, Virginia, in February.

Friday morning, in the Second General Assembly, Larry introduced the keynote speaker, Mr. Earl Reum, co-ordinator of Student Activities for Denver Public Schools. Mr. Reum's talk was on the theme of the convention, "Changeless Values for a Changing Youth."

He had been secured by the Hope Student Council. An added attraction of Friday morning's program was Miss Rosemary Dunnaway, Little Rock's newly elected Junior Miss of America, whose talk concerned her activities during her first three weeks as the Junior Miss.

Fred O. Ellis was moderator on Friday afternoon for a discussion group in which limitations and responsibilities of a student council were discussed.

The Hope delegation was made up of President Larry Don Wright; Student Council President elect, Dwight Calloway; Senior Class Pres. Fred Ellis; Senior Class Pres. elect, C. R. Sturtevant, III; and Student Council Secretary elect, Ellen Turner. The Hope Council was accompanied to Blytheville by its devoted and able sponsor, Mrs. W. A. Williams, under whose guidance the local council has been recognized as one of the state's leading groups.

Prisoners at Cummins on Strike

CUMMINGS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Prison Superintendent O. E. Bishop said Monday 87 Negro prisoners began a sit-down strike shortly after noon at Cummins Prison Farm.

A sit-down strike by 36 white prisoners, which began Friday, ended Monday. A few of the white prisoners had been placed in solitary confinement. Bishop said the white prisoners told him Monday they wanted to work and he had released those in solitary confinement.

Bishop said one group of Negro prisoners balked when they were brought back to the prison compound at noon and the other group started Ms strike a little later in the afternoon. He said the Negro prisoners are getting the same treatment as the whites.

Prison authorities said the white prisoners began their strike after demanding better food and shorter working hours. Bishop said the Negroes were camped on the prison grounds.

Defense Has Stepped Up in Speck Case

By F. RICHARD MCCONE
PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — The defense has stepped up its activity in the Richard Speck murder trial as the prosecution nears the conclusion of its case.

Defender Gerald Getty mounted an intense effort Monday to break down the testimony of a Chicago police technician concerning three fingerprints found in the town house where eight nurses were slain last July 14. He contends the prints are partial prints and not conclusive.

The witness, Jerry Richards, took Speck's prints shortly after the 25-year-old defendant was arrested July 17 at Cook County Hospital, where he was being treated for allegedly self-inflicted slash wounds.

"Do you know what a core is?" Getty asked.

"Yes," Richards replied. "Is there a core there?" Getty inquired, pointing to a print of a right thumb. "Core" is a term fingerprint experts use to describe a portion of the print.

Prosecutor William Martin objected that the witness was not an expert at reading fingerprints, only at taking them. The court ruled that Richards could answer the question, but the policeman said, "I am not qualified."

Getty insisted upon an answer and when the witness finally replied, "Yes," the defense lawyer asked technical questions about other prints.

Martin slammed the table and objected again. The judge sustained the objection, but Getty continued his line of questioning twice more. Each time he drew an objection which was sustained.

After the witness was dismissed, Getty made a motion not to allow the fingerprints to be admitted as evidence because the court limited his examination of Richards. The court rejected the motion.

A T-shirt stained with dry blood was introduced Monday as the one that Speck wore the night he allegedly attempted to take his life by slashing his arms in a skid row flophouse.

An emergency room nurse testified that she cut the size 38-40 shirt from Speck.

Another witness Monday was Dr. Leroy Smith, who said he recognized Speck in the hospital from newspaper descriptions of the intruder and notified police.

3 Dimensional X-Ray Machine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Doctors at Los Angeles General Hospital said Monday they are testing a new X-ray machine which takes three-dimensional pictures.

Dr. George Jacobson, head of the hospital's radiology department, said the machine may enable physicians to find the exact depth of a bullet in a patient's chest or a peanut lodged in a child's windpipe.

3 Charged for Gambling

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Three Fort Smith residents were charged Monday with keeping a gambling establishment.

John Martin Piles, 45, his wife, Claudia Piles, 30, and Bill Hunter were charged after a Friday raid on a Fort Smith lounge. The charges were filed by prosecutor Lyman Mikel.

Gambling Arrests in Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Jack Digby, 35, identified as the operator of the Bridge Street Club here, was arrested and several pieces of gaming equipment confiscated in a raid Monday night by the State Police.

Several private clubs have been raided by State Police. Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller ordered a crackdown on illegal gambling.

Digby was charged with displaying gambling devices and was freed on $500 bond. His arraignment is scheduled for Thursday.

Hot Springs police took the gambling equipment — a dice table, a 21 table, chips, cards and dice — to police headquarters and gave the State Police a receipt for the merchandise. The raid was conducted without a warrant.

Conviction Upheld in Card Burning

BOSTON (AP) — Draft card burning is "a demonstration of free speech," the 1st U.S. Court of Appeals has ruled, and it said the amendment to the Selective Service law prohibiting it is unconstitutional.

The ruling Monday was in the case of David Paul O'Brien, 21, of Framingham, who was sentenced to six years in prison after publicly burning his draft card.

Chief Judge Bailey Aldrich upheld the conviction, however, because O'Brien had violated another section of the law by not having the card in his possession.

Aldrich sent the case back to U.S. District Court with instructions to vacate the six-year sentence and impose a new one. He said he feared the original term had been imposed because of the public burning.

Mother, Two Children Shot to Death

CABOT, Ark. (AP) — Pulaski County Sheriff Frank Mackey today assigned two officers to investigate the Monday slaying of a young housewife and her two small children.

"There are just no leads," Mackey said this morning. "But we've got two men on the case and we're trying to learn something today."

Mackey identified the victims as Mrs. Judith Ann Moody, 24, and her daughters, Rebecca Ann, 3, and Karen Lee, 11 months.

The three were shot to death sometime between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday, Mackey said. He said he had not received a report from the medical examiner to determine the approximate time of death.

John Moody, 27, the husband, was at work at the U.S. Time Corp. in Little Rock at the time of the shooting, Mackey said.

The Moody's lived in a modest frame home a few miles west of the Pulaski-Lonoke line. Mackey said the bodies were discovered about 3:30 p.m. by Moody's mother, Mrs. Gracie Hester of Cabot. He said Mrs. Moody's mother, Eloise Sylvester of North Little Rock, talked with her daughter about 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Moody's body was found in her bedroom and the children in their bedroom, Mackey said.

The sheriff said each was shot but he declined to say how many times or with what type weapon.

Mackey said no weapon was found near the scene.

Rail Strike Truce Is Sought; Truck Dispute Brings Work Cutbacks

Wirtz Wants Truce to Be Voluntary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz believes the critical railroad dispute could be settled in the 20-day cooling off period that President Johnson has urged Congress to tack onto Thursday's strike deadline.

"Public attention has been focused on this matter now," said Wirtz as Democratic leaders planned to push through both House and Senate today the deadline-extending resolution sought by Johnson.

Wirtz indicated his belief that public concern over the crippling effects of the strike on the nation's economy would spur an agreement between rail management and six shipcraft unions if they had additional time to negotiate.

Congressional backers of the resolution said they were left with no alternative after collapse Monday of a Senate Labor Committee effort to win a voluntary 20-day deadline extension.

The voluntary extension was accepted by management negotiators but rejected by the unions. Earlier congressional action had provided for the 60-day extension which is about to expire.

If the resolution is cleared by Congress today as expected, it must be flown to President Johnson in Punta del Este, Uruguay, if he is to sign it Wednesday and avert Thursday's 12:01 a.m. EST strike deadline.

Johnson will meet in Uruguay with chiefs of state of the Latin-American members of the Alliance for Progress.

Democratic senators particularly made it clear at Monday night's Labor Committee session they were reluctant to vote for a resolution which might be interpreted as a strikebreaking move.

Nevertheless, the resolution was approved by the panel 14-0 once the union's rejection of a voluntary deadline extension was learned.

Joseph Ramsey, vice president of the Machinists Union — one of six involved in the dispute over wage increases — said "they (the senators) tried to get the monkey off their back and pin it on ours but we don't go along with that."

Johnson, in asking for the resolution in a special message to Congress Monday, said "the cost of a nationwide railroad strike would be incalculable."

A shipcraft strike would tie up an estimated 95 per cent of the nation's rail mileage.

Consumers Soon to Feel Pinch

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coast-to-coast trucking shutdown pinched the supply lifeline of U.S. merchants and manufacturers today amid predictions consumers soon will feel the squeeze.

Cutbacks in auto manufacturing in Michigan and elsewhere, and forecasts of massive worker layoffs in Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska and Connecticut came as the dispute between the Teamsters Union and Trucking Employers Inc. continued into its third day.

Negotiators for the Teamsters and TEI — whose 1,500 members account for 65 per cent of the nation's long-haul trucking — recessed talks at 11:50 p.m. Monday night. Spokesmen for both sides called the day's efforts "useful," but would give no further details.

The talks were to resume today, with the wage difference reportedly still about 10 cents an hour. The Teamsters are asking a 7 per cent hike to raise the range to from $3.74 to $5.35 an hour. TEI reportedly is offering a 5 per cent jump.

TEI locked out the Teamsters Sunday after accusing the union of staging scattered, selective strikes against its members. The Teamsters accused TEI of trying to force President Johnson to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act's 90-day cooling-off period.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said Johnson has asked the Justice Department to check the Taft-Hartley Act because "there is some question whether the cooling-off period can be applied in a lockout."

General Motors Corp., one of the nation's industrial giants, announced it will suspend truck assembly operation in Pontiac, Mich., beginning today "due to a parts shortage," idling 5,000 workers.

Chrysler Corp. cut an eight-hour afternoon shift in half Monday at its Warren, Mich., plant, but hoped for a full day's work today. Ford halved work schedules at its Wayne, Mich., truck plant to "conserve the flow of incoming parts."

American Motors slashed the work day at its Kenosha, Wis., assembly line.

Forecasts of future shortages came from most parts of the country.

Tons of trucking aboard "piggy-back" freight trains stood unloaded in Chicago rail yards. Thomas Coulter, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said food supplies to the nation's second largest city could be cut off if the lockout continues a week.

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, announced today that Joe Barentine has been named Hope High School Principal succeeding Grady Cathey who has been named Superintendent of Blevins School.

Mr. Barentine has served as teacher and coach. He was principal of White Hall Schools in Pine Bluff, Arkansas. He served Ouchita Public Schools as Superintendent. He is at present Director of Housing, and Assistant in Student Personnel, at Henderson State College.
